

White Room

S. Eke, K. Northrop

Performed by Sera Eke. From the White Room EP, April 2018

Verse 1

I swallow your soul, 'cause I know I can't resist
You borrow my body, then you're tearing me apart
You follow me, whatever I feel, wherever I go
But I can't let you inside of me, not anymore

Bridge

My hands can't be trusted
My memory's adjusted
Could I handle my body
If I break out of obsession

Chorus

Why are we here
Why won't you make the sacrifice
Why won't you disappear
In this white room, cold as ice, cold as ice

Verse 2

I master the madness, 'cause I know I've got no choice
I shout from the shadows, but no one can hear my voice

Bridge

My hands can't be trusted
My memories adjusted
Could I handle my body
If I break out of obsession

My hands can't be trusted
My memories adjusted
Could I handle my body
If I break out of obsession

Chorus

Why are we here
Why won't you make the sacrifice
Why won't you disappear
In this white room, cold as ice, cold as ice

Bridge

My hands can't be trusted
My memories adjusted
Could I handle my body
If I break out of obsession

My hands can't be trusted
My memories adjusted
